Dear John,

Your letter of March 9th reached me fairly recently after a series of forwardings. I have been down here in Washington working with the CIA since mid-January and my mail has been somewhat confused.

Accordingly, I am most apologetic that I did not get in touch with you prior to the 14th. I should be delighted to discuss your transportation report with you some time either here in Washington, if you ever get down, or in Boston, where I return roughly every other week end. According to my present plans, I rather expect to be up there Saturday and Sunday, the 14th and 15th, and would be glad to see you some time either day at your convenience.

Sincerely yours,

MAX F. MILLIKAN
